

POLITICAL

NEW YORK STATE UNION TICKET.
For General—Hon. ELIJAH CONKLIN, Chappaqua;
For Lt.-General—Gen. STEWART L. WOODFORD, King's Cottage; For Canal Com'r—Hon. STEPHEN T. HAYT, Stephen;
For Prison Inspector—Gen. JOHN HAMMOND, Essex.
Election Tuesday, Nov. 6.

UNION MEETINGS.

REPUBLICAN UNION STA R COMMITTEE
House Meeting-Hall, 167 Broadway, N.Y.—
Chairman, JAMES HARRIS, Chemung.

JAS. THREWILLER, Secretary.
Meeting, Oct. 1.

[Judge H. L. LASAR of Missouri.]

FLEMING.—[J. W. V. WALLACE, esp.]

BROOKLYN.—[CHAS. C. COX, Brooklyn.]

ROCK.—The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

MIDDLETON.—The Hon. E. D. CULVER.

LATTIMER HALL BROOKLYN.—[JAMES WALBRIDGE,

BINGHAMTON.—PATRICK CORBETT, esp.]

CRAVEN AVE., BROOKLYN.—The Hon. BUTLER O. NOBLE.

ATLANTA.—The Hon. LYMAN TREMAYNE.

UTICA.—Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK.

RIVERHEAD.—[J. D. O. SIDNEY, L. WOODFORD.

NEWBURGH.—The Hon. BUTLER G. NOBLE.

HAMPTON.—The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

NEW-LONDON.—The Hon. A. BAILEY.

DENMARK.—The Hon. J. O'DONNELL.

SAG HARBOR.—Gen. STEWART L. WOODFORD.

SCHENECTADY.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK.]

MARSHALL.—PATRICK CORBETT, esp.]

NEW-BECKLEY.—[The Hon. BUTLER O. NOBLE,

OKLA.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

TEXAS.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

MEDINA.—The Hon. LYMAN TREMAYNE.

TOMPKINS.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

CORNING.—The Hon. JOHN J. O'DONNELL.

THURSDAY, Oct. 4.

GRESHAM.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

TROY.—The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

ALBANY.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

EAST RUTHERFORD.—[John J. MOTTE, esp.]

ELGIN.—PATRICK CORBETT, esp.]

FRIDAY, Oct. 5.

VENICE.—The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

TARHINGTON.—[Gen. E. D. CULVER.]

CATSKILL.—Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK.

MT. VERNON.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

Saturday, Oct. 6.

HUDSON.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

NEW YORK.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

BALTIMORE.—The Hon. A. BAILEY.

MONDAY, Oct. 7.

The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

WATERTOWN.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

OSSING FALLS.—The Hon. E. D. CULVER.

COHEN.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

WALES.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

POTOMAC.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

STRUCTURE.—The Hon. ROSEOL CONKLIN.

BERKERSHIRE.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

EUPLA.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

ODGENSBURG.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

WHITEHORN.—The Hon. E. D. CULVER.

THURSDAY, Oct. 11.

BERMONT.—[Gen. C. H. VAN WYCK, esp.]

MAULNE.—[Gen. STEWART L. WOODFORD, esp.]

SARATOGA.—[Gen. E. D. CULVER, esp.]

THE PITTSBURGH CONVENTION.

COMPLIMENTS TO THE UNION LEAGUE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 29, 1866.

Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.

The following is the resolution of the Soldiers' Convention, holding at the Union League, which we were unable to report in full, soon after its passing: The Convention adjourned for recess. It was introduced by Col. Joseph J. Johnson, of the 10th Mass. Inf'y, and the resolution adopted, "and to the United League of the United States," as amended it was passed unanimously, amid enthusiasm, the Convention suspending the rule referring all resolutions to the committee.

Whereas, The Union League Clubs have, next to Congress, and the loyal State government, proved the most efficient and reliable auxiliary to our cause during the late war;

Resolved, That the heartfelt thanks of the Soldiers and Sailors of the Union Army and Navy, in the Convention assembled, are deeply tendered to the Union League Clubs of the various cities of the Union, for their efficient and patriotic services rendered to the cause of the Union, from the outbreak of the rebellion till its final conquest by our arms.

LETTER FROM ADMIRAL FARNAGHT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1866.

The following letter from Admiral Farnagh was received here by Mr. Dudley, Secretary of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Committee, while he was at Pittsburg:

NEW YORK, Sept. 29, 1866. No. 10 East Broadway.

To the Union League of the National Convention of Soldiers and Sailors to be held at Pittsburgh on the 25th inst., has just been received. Even if disposed to accept, the time is too limited, but on principle I am as officer of the navy, unwilling to take any active part in political assemblies, and therefore decline to do so. I will, however, be present at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how I came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said: "Are you a Faraght man or not?" Yet these men were not for him. They went with him, but they did not help him. They will not support his policy. But if they do, he will cheer Grant and the President, who is his superior officer. He will be invited by his commanding officer to command the division of soldiers. And then that was that brave old seadog Faraght, he went along, too. Well, he will occasion at the banquet at New York, at the earliest opportunity, to explain how he came there. "Why?" said he. "I have no objection to your being present." "But," said he, "the meeting of soldiers is equivalent to an order." When Faraght got to Cleveland some impudent Radical asked him a question. Said he: "I would like to know whether you're a Johnson man?" "Why," said he, "to be sure I am. It is my commanding officer, and I am a soldier." And then he said